

Ladies and gentlemen

AGRAMKOW would like to invite you for the R1234yf conference which is planned to take place 22th april 2010.

The topics will be issues associated with the introduction and conversion to R1234yf refrigerant, where you also will have opportunity learning about AGRAMKOW's latest development and solution for handling and charging.

If you have colleagues who would be interested in joining the conference, then they will be welcomed to participate. Please also consider to invite the responsible people from EHS department (environmental, health & safety).

Depending on the interest we may need to limit the number of participants due to the size of conference room at a maximum.

If you need any assistance with hotel bookings etc., please do not hesitate to contact us. Your soonest reply will be appreciated.

AGRAMKOW will cover the expenses in connection with the conference, lunch and dinner (excluding hotel and travel expenses).

We hope that you will consider joining this new and innovative conference and please find below the agenda.

Please confirm if you would like to participate by forwarding a mail to pru@agramkow.com.

Application deadline: June 3th 2010
